Nazi Germany during World War II Hitler's Secret Commandos is the history of the K-Verband naval commando unit established in 1943 to wreak havoc amongst invading allied forces involved in amphibious landings or actions against German occupied coasts. Following the Italian and British example the basic idea was for a small exceptionally well trained and reliable commando force using the maximum element of surprise. Midget U-boats and small torpedo-carrying craft along the lines of the explosive boats used by the Italian Navy were designed for individual operations while a naval assault troop was formed for missions against important enemy operational targets near the sea after being landed from naval vessels offshore. Using German archive material, first-hand accounts and other published material, this is the first comprehensive history of the K-Verband. It charts the development, structure, selection, training, and equipment the Commando unit used together with a detailed narrative of the operations undertaken. The material has been translated from a German text previously published in Germany with wide acclaim.

This book tells the fascinating story of the origins of the Commandos, Britain's first Special Service troops and the forerunners of today's Parachute Regiment, the SAS and the SBS, and the development of their special training in World War II. The commandos were raised on the specific and personal orders of the prime minister Winston Churchill in the dark days of the summer of 1940 when these islands faced the real threat of a Nazi invasion. It was a bold but typically Churchillian decision. The book traces the formation of the Commandos and the development of the extreme and often unorthodox training methods and techniques used to prepare the volunteers from all branches of the British Army for subsequent world-wide operations, from bolt and butcher raids to the great raids on Norway and France and finally their employment in the full-scale invasions of North Africa, Sicily, Italy, Normandy, the Crossing of the Rhine, and finally in Burma, whilst at all times fostering that indomitable fighting spirit with which the name Commando became synonymous. So great was the Commandos' contribution in that war that the Army Commandos were awarded thirty-eight Battle Honors and these are emblazoned on the Commando Flag which hangs in Westminster Abbey. Arguably the Army Commandos were disbanded too hastily after the War, but their legacy, traditions, and fighting spirit lives with those artillery engineer and corps troops who today win their coveted Green Berets and serve alongside their comrades of the Royal Marines on active service today.
