PROLOGUE

Although I often looked for work, I usually had to admit that there would be no more for me than that of at best the rest. The world had ended more already and would again at any moment. The war had come and changed us by happening when everyone said it couldn't. We were there for some time but when you found the numbers—two million or fourteen million—you thought, impossible. There was talk of ghosts and the walking wounded. Many came back to London or New York, Moscow, after long and varying little periods of what they'd seen behind their
