Creating Value in Financial Services Edward L. Melnick, Praveen R. Nayyar, Michael L. Pinedo, Sridhar Seshadri, 2012-12-06 Creating Value in Financial Services is a compilation of state of the art views of leading academics and practitioners on how financial service firms can succeed in today's competitive environment. The book is based on two conferences held at New York University: the first, Creating Value in Financial Services, held in March 1997, and the second, Operations and Productivity in Financial Services, in April 1998. The book is essentially designed to be a compendium of leading edge thinking and practice in the management of financial services firms. There is no book today that has this focus. It contains ideas that can apply to other service industries. Topics addressed are increasingly important worldwide as the financial services industries consolidate and search for innovative new directions and ways to create value in a fiercely competitive environment.

The International Handbook of Organizational Culture and Climate Susan Cartwright, Cary Cooper, P. Christopher Earley, 2001-03-30 Culture has increasingly been linked to a diverse range of individuals and organizational behaviours. This book offers critical discussion and information on the topic. It reviews the theoretical and methodological issues and problems and considers future research directions.

Creating Value for All, 2008 The extreme prevalence of poverty in today's world calls us urgently for action. Yet the poor harbour a potential for consumption, production, innovation, and entrepreneurial activity that is largely untapped. This report shows how entrepreneurs can serve the poor as clients and customers and can also include the poor as producers, employees, and business owners. The report's main message: Business with the poor can create value for all. The publication draws on 50 specially commissioned case studies of businesses that have successfully included the poor despite the constraints and created value for all. The cases afford the wealth of ideas for inclusive business models.
