All operation is automatic . . . the only manual effort being the sliding of the combination, turning the ball handle and pressing the buttons. Either A. C. or D. C. current may be used (as specified ordered). Power is automatically cut off with the completion of each operation of opening or closing. Suitable provision is made for emergency manual operation of the door.

PROTECTION The Electric Rekordesk Safe provides 24-hour certified fire protection for valuable card records. The records are always in the Rekordesk Safe—being removed only for posting and immediately returned. Any record worth keeping is kept 24-hour fire protection. With the U. S. fire rate of $1,000.00 a minute there are more fire in the desktop than at night. Records are in more danger for fire than by night . . . they need the protection of the Electric Rekordesk Safe WHERE THEY ARE USED. During a disaster for all records you're placed under immediate protection. Push the button and you're safely . . . the Electric Rekordesk Safe will automatically close and lock.

ADAPTABILITY The Electric Rekordesk Safe is equally adaptable for either desk or machine posting methods. Records are accessible from either side . . . they are filed in individual trays which are easily removed. The card trays rise to standard counter height automatically with the operation of the door. Card trays can be provided for quantities and also used in constant use.

CONSTRUCTION The Electric Rekordesk Safe is constructed exactly the same as our "E" Label Safe, built up to steel and body panels, top and bottom of resilient structural strength and loading mechanism. It has been tested and successfully passed the two-hour heat test in our own laboratory following exactly the standard test curve prescribed for fire-resistive safes.

All moving parts are easily accessible from the front of the safe. They are ruggedly designed for years of uninterrupted service and are fully guaranteed for safety.

ECONOMY Approximately one-half the floor space required for housing vertical cards in the usual container during the day and transferring them to drawer safes or vaults for night fire protection, is saved by the Electric Rekordesk Safe . . . it insures maximum convenience and fire protection IN ONE UNIT. Eliminating unnecessary handling of records it increases operator's efficiency and speeds up production. It affords maximum convenience and protection per dollar.
