S (Subjective):

Allison presented at the agency today for her case management visit, she reports that "she is feeling overwhelmed. She states that nothing she does will make it better, and that she will never fall in love again. She states that nothing is enjoyable anymore, and the only way she can dull the feelings of pain and the emotions of worthlessness is to drink; but when she is intoxicated, she just feels worse".

O (Objective):

A (Assessment):

Allison sat quietly, staring at the floor, with her arms folded around herself, as if giving herself a hug. At times, it appeared as if she was rocking back and forth. When she arrived, Allison slowly walked back to the office, looking at the floor.

objectives are met The book is a text for students and handbook for nurse executives My judgment is that it is for graduate students and beginning managers for the most part The authors are credible given it is their fourth edition of the book The illustrations include tables and examples of management tools that serve to highlight important points in the text References are mostly from the early to mid 1990s with some of the older more historical references The table of contents is thorough and easy to use This book covers thoroughly the concepts incorporated in the nursing administration domain The framework for organizing the chapters is an acceptable framework but not one I prefer The book is useful and the tables and examples are helpful I would recommend its use as a basic reference for graduate students in nursing administration
